

Artist Studio in Altrincham

Greater Manchester, UK, 2018-2021

A quiet serene spot at the bottom of the garden had been chosen as the perfect location for their new artist studio, away from the house yet within easy reach across the lawn. With fervent involvement from the client, we experimented with different configurations and material palettes before arriving at the final solution. The result is a very simple, carefully considered space which creates the right conditions in which to paint but also, as a building, constitutes a welcome addition to the garden.
